

THE NZIFST & FOOD INDUSTRY AWARDS 2020

2020 J C Andrews Award

Professor PHIL BREMER
University of Otago

This is NZIFST's most prestigious award, presented annually in memory of Massey University's first Chancellor, Dr Jack Clark Andrews, who proposed that a food technology degree course be established at Massey University.

The award recognises Institute members who have made a substantial contribution to science and technology in the food industry

NZIFST FELLOWSHIPS 2020

Fellowship is an honour bestowed upon a member to recognise their substantial contribution, or outstanding service, to the profession of food science and technology

Matt Golding, left, Paul Moughan, right, with NZIFST President, Richard Archer, who presented the awards at the Palmerston North hub.

David Tanner

Don Otter

Colin Pitt

Clare Chandler

Peter Bosch

Ron Hooker Award

Jasmin Estrera
Canterbury Branch

This award recognises a member's significant past or present contribution to the NZIFST, developing the affairs of the Institute, its branches or divisions

NZIFST Young Technologist Award

Neala Hart

This award is to recognise and encourage a young technologist, scientist or engineer for the endeavour or achievement, and leadership potential, within the food industry

NZIFST Distinguished Service Awards

These awards recognise ongoing distinguished service and contribution to any sector of the food industry, or support over a long period, above the normal line of duty

Norman Lodge

Hamish Kennedy

Dennis Thomas

The NZIFST, NZ FOOD SAFETY Significant Contribution to Food Safety Award

WINNER:

Aaron Dodunski, from Mobile Meat Packers, Auckland Region

COMMENDED: Paul Wilson, Chomp

COMMENDED: Roger Harris, Safe Food Pro

COMMENDED, Shakeel Ahmed, Imonitor

The Third Allergen Bureau/NZIFST 2020 NZ Best Practice in Food Allergen Management Award

WINNER:
The WOOLWORTHS NZ TEAM,
Left to right, Mark Bell (Head of Quality and Food Safety), Stella Stacey, Deven Kumaran, Angela Yates, Raj Reddy
